A Symposium on Acid Sludge :

Acid Sludge—Its Utilization and Disposal. A. Cluer 1

Acid Sludge—Its Utilization and Disposal. E. S. Squire, D. G. Pidgeon, and P. C. Jones 8

Acid Sludge—Its Utilization and Disposal. W. E. Nieuwenhuis 21

Acid Sludge—Its Utilization and Disposal at Manchester Oil Refinery. R. C. Cobley, H. Kaye, and R. K. Spencer 33

Determination of Oil Content of Soluble Oil Dispersions. Cutting Oils Panel of Standardization Sub-Committee No. 6.—Lubricants 58

Detergents from Petroleum. S. F. Birch 69

The Identification of Bitumens by Colorimetric Methods. D. C. Broome and R. M. Edwards 88

Studies in Shale Oil. Part II. Some Water Soluble Constituents. Geo. E. Mapstone 98

Classification of Bitumens in Asphalt Technology by Certain Rheological Properties. Part I. The Use of Viscosity and Consistency Tests in the Classification of Asphaltic Bitumens : A Critical Survey of Existing Knowledge. S. L. Neppe 109

The Nature of Soap-thickened Lubricating Greases. Marjorie J. Vold and Robert D. Vold 155

The Deterioration of Transformer Oil. Part I. Operating Difficulties and Their Causes. L. Massey 164

Studies in Shale Oil :

Part III. Some Constituents of Shale Naphtha. Geo. E. Mapstone, J. S. Durham, and H. D. Taskis 172

Part IV. The Sulphochlorination of a Selected Shale Oil Fraction. G. Nottes and Geo. E. Mapstone 178

Part V. Aldehyde Resins from Shale Tar Bases. Geo. E. Mapstone . . 180

Part VI. A Note on the Discoloration of Cracked Shale Gasoline. Geo. E. Mapstone 192

Methods for Expressing the Viscosity–Temperature Relationship of Lubricating Oils. J. F. T. Blott and C. G. Verver 193, 590

Some Views on the SAE Viscosity Classification. J. G. Withers 250

Classification of Bitumens in Asphalt Technology by Certain Rheological Properties. Part II. The Conception and Derivation of Viscosity Number and Other Related New Indices. S. L. Neppe 257

The Deterioration of Transformer Oil. Part II. L. Massey 281

Obituary : L. G. Gabriel 298

Pre-flame Reactions in Diesel Engines. F. H. Garner, O.B.E., F. Morton, A. H. Nissan, E. P. Wright, W. E. Malpas, and W. D. Reid 302

Classification of Bitumens in Asphalt Technology. Part III. The Practical Value of Viscosity Number and Related Indices as Compared with other Established Methods of Bitumen Characterization. S. L. Neppe . . . 344

The Deterioration of Transformer Oil. Part III. Assessment and Improvement of Oil Stability. L. Massey 361
